Report of the activity

Environment day was celebrated with active student participation. As an initiative of this day, students prepared a vertical green garden using used plastic bottles as the theme of the day was to beat plastic pollution . Students participated in the poster presentation and quiz competition organized by B.Voc Broadcasting and Journalism department. To propagate the message of protection and conserve the environment for the present and future generation, pledge taking events were performed. B.Voc Renewable Energy Management students know the importance of proper waste disposal especially plastic wastes. This kind of cooperation from students shows their willingness to promote a plastic free campus.
